MEMORANDUM FOR Assistant Director for Current Intelligence

SUBJECT: Office of Current Intelligence Support of the Ad Hoc Requirements Committee (ARC)

1. In earlier memorands I have reported to you on the excellent performance of the representatives of your Office on the ARC, of which I am the Chairman.

- 2. The departure of prompts me to write this note to pay particular respect to the imaginative and thoroughgoing efforts not only of the but also those unnamed associates in OCI who give him assistance. I have felt that in many cases OCI has worked informally with the other agencies in sorting out emerging problems where possibly T-materials could aid in solution. The other agencies have, it is my observation, welcomed these efforts, and I think we have been in better shape in doing our job because of it.
- 3. As you know, I am not in the line of command of any of the participants in the ARC and, therefore, not in a position to place demands on them. I would be less than gracious, therefore, if I did not allude to the numerous occasions where suggestions or requests that I have placed on OCI have met with uniform thoughtful and prompt response.
- 4. I welcome OCI's initiative in these matters and trust that we can continue to work this way in the future.

SUBJECT

25X1A closely with connection with Ad Noc Requirements
Committee business in which he has represented your Office. This note is to express to you my appreciation for the excellent work that he has done both on behalf of your own Office and for the benefit of the intelligence community.

2. Aside from the care which he has exercised in managing the use by ORR of the materials in a secure fashion and his contribution in the development of requirements, has been most industrious and imaginative in exploring ways to sanitize the materials so that they may be available more broadly than in their original state. I understand from that he did the major job on the preparation of the recently published manual on sanitization, which is an excellent manual. This manual will not only make it much easier for all the participating agencies to proceed clearly with sanitization but also ensures maximum security.

3. I want you to know that from my point of view work has been very satisfactory, and it has been a real pleasure to work with him.
